Piane Manufacturer Resorts to Drastio Measure.

The people have been reading and saring about some of the wild scenes hearing about some of the wild scenes that Wall Street offered to spectators during some of the panics that hit stocks and that drove the financiers stocks and that drove the manclers in their wild excitement out of their heads and caused them to tear from each other's backs the very clothing they wore. But this is but the result of the penalties that gamblers have to pay. The fall of financial institutions in the last few months brings some of the more pathetic scenes before us.

A few days ago what was a wealthy piano manufacturer whose resources were quoted at above $1,00,000, the result of activity and thrift, that covered a period of more than fifty years, brought one of the pioneers in the piano manufacturing world to a situa-tion, where a few thousand dollars stood between him and a complete wreck of the marvellous institution he and his sons had worked so hard to

This incident disclosed the fact that many of the biggest dealers in the pi-ano trade today have been doing business on paper to such an extent that when it came to a question of ready cash, a percentage of them were not in a position to get it.

The other day Mr. R. C. Plant of the Plaut-Cadden company was urgently called to New York by one of these dealers and accompanied by Mr. Ad-elard Morin of the piano department Upon reaching New York and call-ing on this man, who came forth and burst into tears and said, "Mr. Plaut, I have labored hard for more than fifty years to build up what you know is one of the greatest manufacturing organizations in the piano trade today. My sons have been financiering and taking care of the office details. I have been rated at more than $1,000,have been rated at more than $1,000,900. My resources seemed to be inexhaustible but after the series of financial trouble that has hit New York, I find myself facing the crisis of my life. I have now $40,000 worth of finished product on my floor, and I am unable to raise cash upon it. My so-called pretentious buyers offer to take the entire output but all of them take the entire output but all of them. have got paper to offer, notes running from 12 to 18 months," and scornfully exclaimed "What good is paper like this for a man who must have immediate cash?"

After going over the situation carefully with Mr. Plaut and Mr! Morin a transaction was brought to a close that enabled the dealer to secure the ready cash and the dealer said no matter what panics came in the future, credit would be extended only to those who would be extended only him out in crises like this.

A New Feature Added To The 1914 Directory of Norwich.

The Price and Lee Co. of New Haven, publishers of the Norwich Direct. en, publishers of the Norwich Direct-ory, wish to announce in connection with the 1914 Directory of Norwich that a new and very desirable feature will be added to it this year. This new feature will consist of a Street Guide and Directory of Householders. In the House Directory residences and places of business are designated by places of business are designated by their street number, and are arranged in numerical order. In the Street Guide the streets are aranged in al-phabetical order and the intersecting etreets are given at the proper num-ber where they intersect. This feature has been added to many directories published by the Price and Lee Co. and has been found to be a great con-venience to the users of the different directories. See adv.

DAVIS THEATRE.

Today, The Great Divide," Myrkle-Harder Co. Will Give Henry Miller's Great Success.

The Myrkle-Harder Company seems The Myrkie-Harder Company seems to be growing in favor with Norwich theatre goers each night. Last even-ing another capacity house greeted the presentation of "The Girl in Wait-ing," one of the prettiest comedies ever seen here.

Tonight the Myrkle-Harder company will play "The Great Divide," the big New York success of Henry Miller and Margaret Anglin. The story is laid in the thrillingly romantic atmosphere of the West, and requires dittense acting and careful delineation of character, which, as Norwich people by this time agree, the members of the Myrkle-Harder company will be entirely capable of supplying.

Plying.

Miss Myrkle will be seen in one of Path Joydan, the Miss Myrkle will be seen in one of her strongest parts, Ruth Jordan, the girl the rough Westerners shake dice for. Mr. Burtin, the leading man of the company, will enact the part of Stephen Ghent. He has made a direct study of Mr. Miller's interpretation of this role.

On Friday night will be given one On Friday night will be given one of the feature plays of the week's engagement, "The Spendthrift." This play is from the pen of Porter Emerson Brown, who also wrote, "A Fool There was." Matinee today at 2.30—prices 10c and 20c. A few Seats reserved at 20c.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Three New Vaudeville Numbers, and Some Fine Photoplays At Auditorium Today.

The general report on the Auditorium's show the first of the week, was "very good," and the report on today's show is "even better." While the Auditorium has shown larger acts than are on today's bill there have not been are on today's bill, there have not been many acts seen in the city of any more individual merit. The Universal films which are in a class by them-selves start the program as usual, the first film being "His Faithful Servant." first film being "His Faithful Servant."

a Rex drama, with the popular Boh Leonard, and Eddie Lyons in a part different from anything he has ever played. The king of all photoplayers, King Bagsott, will be seen in a fine twd-part mystery film, written by limself, and entitled, "King the Demotive, in Formula 879." This is an imp Film, and King Bagsott is assisted by Jane Gail, a combination that is a guarantee of merit.

"The Demure Comedianne" Miss

"The Demure Comedienne" Miss irginia King, will open the vaudeville program, and she will win her way to approval by her winsome manner, smart gowns, new songs and a charming reseasonality.

ing personality.

Ed Ford assisted by "Truly" will present an original novelty which they term "The Dancing Dog." Truly is a thoroughbred fox-terrier who will prove a revelation in canine intelligence, and Ed Ford can dance just a lot better than the rest. When you hear of a vaudeville act that carries four special sets of scenery, you will find there are usually 10 or 12 people in the act, but for a team or 12 people in the act, but for a team consisting of a lady and a gentleman to carry this amount is unusual to say the least. Campbell and MacDonald in the scenic, singing skit "Bits" not only carry four sets of scenery but also eight complete changes of wardrobe. This is one act in a thousand.

"Excursions in old Paris is a scenic film that will delight all those that ap-

"Simple Simon deals in Antiques" will cause much harmless laughter, the Gaumont Co. made the film.

The Silver Shower is scheduled again for tomorrow night, and the displaying the window of the Reid's play in the window of the Reid & Hughes Boston Store has caused much favorable comment. Doors open at 6.30 Friday evening.

COLONIAL THEATRE

'An Enemy's Aid," and "Minister's Daughter," Two-reels, Features.

Through an error, the Wednesday how at the Colonial was replaced by show at the Colonial was replaced by the show for Thursday, so to correct the system, the show advertised for Wednesday will be shown today. It has an immense two-reel Patheplay entitled "The. Minister's, Daughter," which tells of an obedient son who marries according to his parents' wishes, while the deserted sweetheart wears out her beart in secretary wears out her heart in sorrow. "An Enemy's Ald," an exceptionally strong Lubin western drama has a plot that has to do with a rejected lover who to secure revenge, places a time-bomb in a powder house that adjoins his rival's house, but in his effort to get away, he breaks his leg, and is carried by the innocent lover into the doomed powder house and left to be the vic-tim of his own flendishness. He is rescued by the girl in the case, and all rescued by the girl in the case, and all ends happily. "The Stolen Plans," a sensational Edison production made in England under Marc MacDermott is a strong story of the English army, while the Talcum Powder Industry is an educational film, and "Emancipatan educational educational educational education educati ed Women," a screaming comedy.

THE BAFFLED SCIENTIST.

When told .. at Mr. Edison, whose wis-dom I revere, dom I revere, Eats half a pound of food a day, my soul was filled with cheer.
"If on this ration." I observed, "a man may win renown.
And gain a fortune while he keeps the cost of living down.
We all can surely do the same," and very keen to try it.
I placed my Uncle Ephraim on the Edisonian diet.

At first he made an awful row; he was a stodgy man

Who could not take an interest in a scientific plan.
He said that he was fond of food, and wouldn't give a cent for all the telephones and things he ever could invent.
But in my scheme to build his brain 1 would not brook defeat.

And haif a pound of food a day was all he got to est.

Success was with me from the start;
he lost a lot of fat

Which formerly had use up room we needed in our fat.
And presently, to my delight, he fell to thinking harder.
Inventing ways to get the things we locked up in the larder,
And when he broke in with an axe
and are a ham one night.

I felt at my experiment was working out all right.

out all right. I fed him but an ounce a day for two weeks after that.
And put a watch on all the food we kept around the flat.
And granually I worked him down until he seemed to thrive
On half what Edison declared would keep a man alive.
Then, lo' a great idea held my wakming mind in thrail;
If I could prove that Uncle Eph did need no food at all!

Alas for my ambitions! Now I nightly sit and brood
On the wrong that has been done me by a base ingratitude.
Just as fame and approbation seemed within my trembling gress.
Uncle Ephraim, with a bed-siat, pried away are partry lmsp.
Ate six pounds of raw potatoes, seven pork chops and pie
And departed for his daughter's who resides in Quogue, L. L.
